

Sociology

To start exploring, and best prepare yourself for studying this subject at A-level, your teachers recommend accessing the range of resources below:

A Level Specification	AQA Sociology
Something to Read ...	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Chavs. The Demonization of the Working Class by Owen Jones</li> <li>• Fifty shades of Feminism by Rachel Holmes and Susie Orbach</li> <li>• Breadline Britain by Stewart Lansley and Joanna Mack</li> <li>• Boys don't try? By Matt Pinkett and Mark Roberts</li> <li>• Toxic Childhood by Sue Palmer</li> <li>• Why I'm no longer talking to white people about race by Reni Eddo-Lodge.</li> </ul>
Something to Watch ...	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Mcmafia</li> <li>• Blood Diamond</li> <li>• Mrs America</li> <li>• 'The Hate U Give'</li> <li>• I Daniel Blake</li> </ul>
Something to Browse - useful websites	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Tutor2u Sociology</li> <li>• theTEACHERSOCIOLOGY on YouTube</li> <li>• Esher Sociology on YouTube</li> <li>• Hectic Teacher Hectic Teacher Resources (hectic-teacher.co.uk)</li> </ul>
Other Suggestions	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Research the following perspectives: Functionalism, Marxism, Feminism, Interactionism and the New Right.</li> <li>• Write a brief summary of their main ideas.</li> </ul>